Footnotes

- The definition of Mid-East as used in this report has changed and now includes Meath, Wicklow, Kildare and Louth. This change has been made to align the data to the new NUTS classifications for Ireland. See <https://www.cso.ie/en/methods/revnuts23/> for further detail.
- The aggregate "New Homes Available for Use" is the total of dwellings in the categories New Dwelling Completions, Unfinished Housing Development Connections and Reconnections as reported by the CSO. For further detail see <https://www.cso.ie/en/releasesandpublications/ep/p-ndc/newdwellingcompletionsq12018/>
- For February 2020 and for releases going forward, the CSO have rebased the residential property price index to represent price changes with reference to the annual average price for the year 2015 rather than the previous base period of January 2005.
- From September 2020, Rest of Ireland in the context of rental data and prices refers to Ireland excluding Dublin.
